Acqua dell'Elba's new line of solar products is the result of all its experience, acquired through the design and creation of marine-inspired artefacts. The perfect products for our most beautiful days. Those who have sailed aboard a sailboat, sailing the waves in the silence of the high seas in complete freedom; those who have walked through the paths of an island, surrounded by the colours, essences and transparencies that fill our souls; those of the elegance of a terrace overlooking the sea, cuddled by a warm summer day.

A line of solar products with the essence of the sea.

BR was founded nearly 50 years ago by a physiotherapist, a biologist and a French doctor with the aim of creating professional products based on scientific formulas capable of truly improving the quality of the skin. The brand philosophy? Each skin is unique and must be treated according to a personalised approach. This is why the product range consists of more than 50 references, each focused on a specific problem or skin type. Instead of focusing on anti-ageing action or the elimination of impurities, lotions, cleansers, masks and serums are simply meant to offer the most beautiful skin possible.

BABOR

Babor is an international brand of professional facial and body treatments, as well as a Spa chain based in Germany. At the origin of Babor, a chemist: Dr Michael Babor, who developed a face care formula based on essential oils in 1956. The company was quickly acquired by the Vossen family, who still managed the brand, now based in Aix-La-Chapelle, France.

Babor cosmetics carries a precise image. Thanks to its bestseller: the ampoule serum. This concept allows to capture a concentrate of active principles, without preservative, since the use is immediate after opening. The efficiency is therefore maximum. Every need of the skin is met thanks to the brand's very specific serums: multivitamins, collagen booster, conditioner, after sunscreen... A targeted response to each problem.

Kiehl's

SINCE 1851

Unlike other brands, Kiehl's is not a fashionable brand, but a cult one that has long established itself through one of its core values : respect. The respect for the science firstly, but also the expectations of its customers and the renewed quality of its products. Already at the forefront 160 years ago, the brand knew how to stay there without losing her values on the way. Kiehl's efforts are more than ever aimed at producing quality and efficient products. How? Drawing mainly its elements from nature and homeopathic remedies. Add to these a touch of modernity and technological innovations to obtain rare and efficient products.

The group plays transparency and authenticity by offering its clients strong and verifiable commitments: the ingredients used are qualitative, natural and effective; the effectiveness of each product is preferred before the texture, the smell... artificial dyes are very little used and many ingredients come from botany: herbs, vitamins...

BIODERMA

BIODERMA has always sought to reconcile perfect effectiveness and better tolerance for each skin type and each condition. In order to guarantee the greatest dermatological safety, BIODERMA products contain a very limited number of ingredients and optimally dosed active ingredients. Pre-empting the recommendations of the health authorities, BIODERMA tends to exclude all dermatologically questionable products. These commitments are reflected in a formulation charter that applies to all product developments and grounds their superiority in a scientific method. This uncompromising approach explains why BIODERMA products improve the skin's tolerance and help it be less reactive. That is why they all benefit from the DAF (Dermatological Advanced Formulation) patented natural complex.
